ELECTION

is not only shown by the vote cast for the Republican candidate, but by the surprisingly heavy vote cast for the candidate of the Socialist party, which vote may be classed as a vote of re-sentment against the party in power rather than having been cast with any steadfast belief in the success of the Socialist or the efficacy of his prin-ciples.

The consensus of expert political judgment to be found about the re-sult was more responsible for the Re-publican victory than anything else. Senator Nathan Goff, who has watched the struggle with considerable inter-est, is one of the many who entertain that view.

Three things primarily entered into that situation to bring about the re-sult, said Congressman S. B. Avis, who kept in close touch with the bat-tle while it raged. "In my opinion the chief cause of our party's success was dissatisfaction with the new tar-iff. It is not working right, and the manufacturing districts—the industrial centers—have been the first to feel that something is radically wrong. The second element was the administra-tion's stand on the canal tolls ques-tion, which a great mass of the peo-ple believe is un-American, and a sur-render of sovereignty over the canal under pressure of a foreign government. The third reason was the in-ability of the administration to fulfill its campaign pledge to reduce the high cost of living. There is, in my opinion, a general dissatisfaction with the ad-ministration. The party in power has failed to make good its pre-election pledges and promises. I believe that this dissatisfaction is by no means confined to this one congressional dis-trict but that it is general, and is growing. The helpless and aimless policy of the administration with re-gard to Mexico has not a little to do with it, either. There is a growing conviction that the president blundered there in refusing to recognize Huerta as the de facto president of Mexico and that his pertinacious obstinacy in refusing to correct that blunder has made conditions more horrible than they would otherwise have been, and is tending to but one end ultimately, after great loss of life and property, armed intervention. Intervention without the use of arms has long ago become an established fact."

Discussing the result in New Jersey, Congressman Avis believed will have a stimulating effect on the Republica-party not only in West Virginia, but in every state. In this view all the Re-publican members of the West Vir-ginia delegation share.

ITALIAN WOMAN

Are Anxious to Free Themselves from Restrictions with the Vote as the Goal.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
ROME, April 11.—With the pass-ing of the Giolitti cabinet the leaders of the feminist movement in Italy have taken up a new campaign, in the hope that the new ministers of the government will deal more favorably with their cause.
There is no militant element in the feminist movement of Italy, and no sex-antagonism, but women are anx-ious to free themselves from certain restrictions which the laws of the land and the customs of society have imposed. Originally designed for the protection of women, it is declared these laws are now a burden. The vote is the women's ultimate goal but at present they are hoping particu-larly for the opening of the professions to them and the repeal of such laws as those prohibiting a married woman from opening a bank account without the consent of her husband.

An official residence and executive offices are awaiting him at Chinchua. With his office forces on the scene, he said, there would be scarcely any in-terruption of the working of the pro-visional government. A report from Torreon said that three rebel col-umns had engaged General Velasco Parras.

The Leonard Cleanable Porcelain Lined Refrigerator Pays for itself in the Ice it Saves

That's a strong statement but nevertheless true. There are families right here in town who have used a Leonard Refrigerator for years.

Ask the "Ice Man" next time you get a chance what he thinks of the Leonard. He'll tell you a Leonard refrigerator requires less ice than any other box in town.

That is only one point in favor of the Leonard. The sanitary features are far more essential to good health than the cost of ice to the pocket-book. A good refrigerator has a perfect circulation of pure dry air. Butter, milk and vegetables may be placed in the Leonard without the least fear of taint.

The Leonard Refrigerator

is by far the best, most perfect, sanitary refrigerator we have ever sold. The cost is a mere nothing compared to the quality, convenience and sanitation. It's as easily cleaned as a china plate; all pipes, shelves and ice racks are quickly removed for cleaning.

The porcelain lining is genuine porcelain melted into the surface of sheet steel and will not crack or break off. The case work is satin wal-nut, (red gum) round corners, a handsome refrigerator to look at and a most satisfactory refrigerator to own. You can't find a better one at any price and very few as good. Note the absolutely sanitary water cooler, genuine porcelain inside and outside.

Stop in tomorrow, let us show you. It's a pleasure to demonstrate the Leonard.
